Red Devils ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Credit Recovery:

Should a student fail a regular high school class, the following options are available: 1) the student may take the class again (at a cost of $50.00 per class) or 2) complete a packet at the Academic Support Center (at a cost of $75.00 per packet) Academic Support is also available to students transferring from other high schools, needing GCHS credit in order to graduate. 3) Arches Education Center in Moab is another alternative for credit recovery, at no charge. However, students must withdraw as GCHS students in order to take classes at Arches. Students graduating from Arches receive either a Utah High School Diploma or a GED. Summer School is provided through Grand County High School as well.

Credit Advancement:

Students wishing to augment or accelerate their credit (in order to graduate early) may use accredited online providers, via SEATS.

All arrangements for alternative credit (including SEATS or BYU online) must be made in advance with the GCHS Counseling Department. SENIORS: In order to assure walking in the graduation ceremony, all Online final exams must be taken no later than May 1 of your graduating year. In addition, all credit reports from outside sources (ASC packets, SEATS online or other appropriately accredited online schools such as BYU on line) must be turned into the Counseling Department no later than May 15th of the graduating year. All course work and final grades through the high school must be completed by Senior Check Out if a student is going to participate in the graduation ceremony and receive a diploma, unless there are extenuating circumstances approved by the principal or his/her designee.
